

HEALTH AND SAFETY TRAINING

As part of the federal Child Care and Development Block Grant Act 2014, states must require health and safety pre-service or orientation training for all eligible CCDF providers. The new law requires documentation of training in 10 specific health and safety topic areas as well as highly recommends training in child development. The intent of the training is to support basic health and safety standards designed to prevent harm to children. Please note that not all in-person trainings are offered regularly. You will need to access the training calendar of your local Child Care Resource and Referral or other training organization to determine if and when a certain topic will be offered. The federal rules do not state the number of hours of training required in each training topic; therefore, the Division will approved the training if the length of the training is at least one hour.

This list will be updated as additional trainings are identified and approved.
